WOMAN'S IDEA WORTH MONEY.

THE woman with an original idea has her success about assured, according to a young Southern girl, who has discovered that making money is the easiest thing in the world, to say nothing of the amusement one gets out of the game.

This particular young woman happens to belong to the fortunate class of those who work for a pastime. She did not go out in search of a job, but one was thrust upon her. She had never been able to buy a sports hat that exactly pleased her, and being resourceful she set out to design one. It was while visiting an exhibit of art furniture that she stumbled upon the right idea and one that has since made for her thousands of dollars.

Here she saw some white furniture upholstered with enamel cloth. She also noticed that the cloth could be painted and made very decorative. She bought enough of the cloth for her experiment and then added a purchase of soft material for the facing.

When the hat was finished it even exceeded her hopes and proved a joy forever. An admiring friend begged permission to wear it to a country club function, where it made a hit, and at least a dozen women wanted one like it.

After she had finished the first dozen she took them to a fashion magazine and they were pictured as sports creations. Orders came in rapidly and the young woman opened a shop and put in girls to execute them. In the first two months she cleared $3,000 and business was still growing.

"Try This Sauce!"

Shakespeare said, "to make you hungry." It is the vigorous enemy of indigestion, insomnia and worry. It mixes like a regular friend, with sturdy recreation and outdoor sport and play. Its home is in the
